The “European Doctorate”, or “Doctor Europaeus” is a label which applies to the national doctorate diploma, already internationally recognised under the European Undergraduate-Graduate-Post-Graduate framework, and which enables recognition of the European dimension of the PhD project.

It is open to PhD students from European Community member countries, and extended to other states of the European Free Trade Association (Switzerland, Iceland, Norway, Lichtenstein).

Conditions of eligibility :

a research internship period of at least three months in another European country.

At least one member of the jury should belong to a European higher education institution from a different country to that in which the oral thesis presentation is held.

At least three professors comprising at least two from higher education institutions from two European countries other than the country in which the oral thesis presentation is to be held.

Part of the oral thesis presentation should be conducted in an official language of the European Community which is not the language of the country in which the presentation is held.
